Take Light Workouts

oach Stan Watts ran his ppions through light drills Monday and will continue soft- touch workouts through Wed- nesday Watts reports the Cou- gars are in fine shape, both physically and mentally.

Radio Stations KOVO in Provo and KSL, Salt Lake City, will broadcast the BYU games, the Friday night tussle against California tentatively slated for 10 p.m

Watts Confident

Watts expressed confidence that the Brigham, a good road team, will make a creditable showing in the tournament. "If the boys are up, we stand a good chance of winning," said Watts.

California, the Pacific Coast Conference winner, has had their first-string center, Aspi- lund, who is ineligible for NCAA competition.

Good Replacement

However, the Golden Bears have a good replacement for Aspilund in Joe Hagler, a 6-8 let- terman who was pegged for the center slot before Aspilund took over.

California, the class of the Pacific Coast this year, nosed out UCLA and will be the fa- vorites in the regional tourna- ment.

Should BYU get by the Bears they will face San Francisco, Idaho State of Hardin-Simmons The "Russelless" Dons, last year's champions, will play the winner of the Idaho State vs. Hardin-Simmons game.

The Skyline will also be rep- resented in the annual National Invitational Tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden. Second-place Utah will carry Skyline laurels against Memphis State in the NIT.

Choral Group Records Music

Original music by Crawford Gates for the annual Grove at Palmyra, N.Y., will be recorded by a Brigham Young University choral group at the beginning of spring quarter.

Several months ago the presi- dency of the Latter-day Saints Church commissioned Gates to write original music for the pageant.

Writing is now completed and The Utah Symphony and the Male and Women's Choruses and A Cappella Choir from BYU will record.

They will record in the Salt Lake Tabernacle before the or- chestra disbands for the 1956- 57 season. Norman Gulbrandsen directs the Male and Women's Choruses and Newell Weight the A Cappella Choir.

CORRECTION!

Deleted from the announce- ed list of candidates in Mon- day's Universe was Bruce Broadbent, Riverside, Calif., who is a candidate for stu- dentbody first vice-president.

Departing Veterans Need To Sign Pay

Veterans who are leaving the campus this week and will not be returning spring quarter should report to the G.I. Office to pay before they leave, according to the Veterans' Office.

All veterans who are going to register spring quarter must list all classes in the Vet- erans' Department on registra- tion day in the fieldhouse. They are required to carry at least 14 hours credit for full-time pay.

A veteran who repeats a class which he took before going into the service, may be paid for it on G.I. now. However, if he has taken it once under the G.I. Bill, it cannot be counted in his total of 14 hours for the second time.

BYU alumni will sponsor a pep rally at 8 p.m. for Cougar rooters in the Regional NCAA tournament in Corvallis, Ore., Friday. The rally will be held in the Ball Room of the Me- morial Student Union Build- ing. Cougar alumni, students and friends will enjoy free refreshments.

The Cougars will carry an 18- 8 record into the tournament, 11-3 in conference play.

Eligibility troubles have sore- ly plagued Idaho State which will have four men on the side- lines.

hey object and understandably so, that n studentbody of 9000 students there will al- be some who forget honor, leaving only ystem" which they exploit to the unfair- of others. These objections give rise to question, is the Honor Code practical or hose who believe in it delusioned idealists.

EMBERS of the Honor Council are first imit that much cheating passes unnoticed s noticed, unreported. It is realized that nushrooming of the studentbody over the few years has not been an unmixed bless- nce it has been accompanied by a weak- of traditional university values.

For instance, Brigham Young University ds used to be noted for their sportsman- Other examples are not hard to find.

HE CHANGE of campus situations calls re-evaluation. A fresh look at the problem assroom cheating is timely. A realistic ap- proach is needed.

Teachers! When giving exams, be specific. Do not begin passing out exams until your class is settled and exam conditions have been attained. Specify the exact moment when stu- dents may begin and when they are to stop. A short reminder might help to create an hon- orable atmosphere.

STUDENTS: Eliminate temptation for your neighbor by shielding your own paper. Crowd- ed classrooms make it difficult to resist temp- tation or avoid suspicion. Try not to focus the attention of others on yourself by doing any- thing, no matter how harmless it appears to you, that might arouse suspicion.

And finally, an extract from the Honor Code which too few students know or follow. "Tapping a pencil is the traditional method of warning a person during an examination that his conduct is questionable. The next step is to stand and announce that cheating is going on in the classroom . . ."

The letter-code is not worth dishonor. Let's check our values.

Weekly Papers Pledge $300 For Scholarships

Publishers of weekly news- papers in Utah have pledged more than $300 in scholarship- for high school students to at- tend a two-day publicition work- shop at Brigham Young Univer- sity June 3 to 9.

Students will live on campus for the week while they study yearbook and newspaper publi- cation methods. The course studied by the students during this time will help to prepare school correspondents for home- town newspapers.

Wayne M. Carie, journalism instructor at BYU, is director of the workshop.

Drama Of An 'Angel' Begins New Quarter

Registration of sexy student's on relax of one of four nights es drama next week following enrollment day.

"Angel in the Pawnshop," directed by Prof Lael J Woodbury, will begin a four-night run March 20 at 8:15 in Smith Auditorium.

Playing leading roles will be Carl Markworth as a cynical Indian patient and Mary Ann Hobson, the "angel" with the inviting past.

Others in the cast will include Charles Whitman, Roger Brown, Brad Powell, Ron Matson, Gary Stewart, Jae Kirk, Dick Walsh, Francis Nay and Bonnadean Beaty.

Assisting Prof Woodbury will be Robert Struthers, technical director, and Dorothy Whitaker, costume director.

Setting of the play is a pawnshop operated by a man suffering from a bad heart. Lizzie, the angel, breezes in one day and changes his attitude toward his business with her whimsical character.

Lizzie's past keeps inviting her to step back "for just a little while" and creates a plot that is accented with warmth and romance.

Ticket reservations are being given at the Smith Information Booth. Students will receive tickets upon presentation of activity cards.

MagazineAppoints English Professor To Editorial Staff

Twentieth Century Literature Magazine has announced appointment of Dr. Clinton F. Larson, professor of English at Brigham Young University, to its editorial board.

The magazine is a scholarly and critical journal which includes bibliographies and literary criticisms of modern literature.

A professor at BYU for nearly 10 years, Dr. Larson specializes in creative writing and modern poetry classes.

He has written poetry, stories and articles for many national literary magazines and is co-sponsor of the Hart-Larson Poetry Award presented each year.

National Picture Competition Gives New York Trip Prize

The Twelfth Annual International Collegiate Photography Competition has been announced by Kappa Alpha Mu, national photo-journalism fraternity.

The contest, sponsored by KAM, the National Press Photographers Association, Encyclopedia Britannica and the Association of College Unions, closes April 5.

Pictures will be judged in seven classifications: news, feature, sports, pictorial, portraiture, character, picture series or sequence and picture portfolio.

The photographer presenting the best picture portfolio shall win an expense-paid week in New York as a guest of Life Magazine, and a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Winners in each of the other divisions shall receive a set of Encyclopedias.

Discount Club Organizes

An organizational meeting of a buyers club, members of which would buy groceries in quantity at discount prices, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the McKay building.

The club was formed after an editorial in the Daily Universe suggesting the need for such an organization. The editorial pointed out that discounts of five percent may be saved by BYU's paupers, married or otherwise.

Married or single students living on or off campus are invited to join the group, according to Nathan Coe, Boulder City, Nev., and Kenner Kartchner, faculty representative.

Short Hair Looks Just As Pretty As Long Hair If Proper Care Is Used In Rinsing, Setting

HOLLYWOOD, (NS)—Blonde- or brunette, gentlemen prefer luxurious looking hair.

That's the opinion of Alfred Pagano who, with brothers Adolph and Eugene, owns and operates a swank Hollywood beauty shop.

"The most important thing about hair is its sheen and thickness," Pagano said. "It must look healthy and alive, not thin and wispy and chopped looking.

"Even short hair can be brushed and rich looking. Hair four feet long doesn't mean it's great—hair six inches long can be beautiful.

"One of greatest ways to get sheen in with a good water rinse. It's better to use one soaping and rinse for five minutes than 15 minutes of soaping, and just enough rinsing to get the soap out. It's the rinsing that adds polish to hair."

Pagano advised further:

"Try to keep metal curlers and metal rollers away from hair. It causes split ends. Men like soft hair, so when setting use larger curls and set it more often. Men don't like fuzzy hair, and anyway, too tight curlers will split and break hair.

"Use boar hair brushes if possible; and very large, hard rubber combs.

"If you want an extreme hairdo for a special occasion, remember it's a one night stand. You're going to have to set it all over the next day.

You're Gene McGrew . . . high school footballer and class officer. You won a scholarship and went through Princeton in the top third of your class . . . managed varsity track . . . commanded an artillery battery in Korea . . . "When you put a lot of preparation into your career," Gene McGrew feels, "you should expect a lot of opportunity in return."

Meets IBM representative

Out of the Army in 1953, Gene met an IBM representative. It sounded like opportunity. A few interviews later, Gene was sure. Although sales was only one of the many jobs he felt he could handle, this kind of selling—(IBM machines are as much an idea as a product)—promised to occupy every talent he possessed. Besides, he's learned that "no other form of training produces so many top business managers."

Gene outlines programming test

Then began a 13 months' training program marked by merit salary increases. First—3 months' schooling and observing operations in Pittsburgh (Gene's hometown). Next—2 months' studying the applications of IBM's electronic data processing machines in business, science, government, and defense. Followed by 7 months' practical training in the field, with customer contact. Followed by IBM's famous course in selling methods. Finally, assignment to a sales territory near Pittsburgh, responsible for about 14 companies and their executives who used IBM equipment, and a dozen or so more who were logical prospects for it.

What's it like to be
AN IBM SALESMAN?
Selling to management is perhaps the best training for management, and it's the reason Gene McGrew joined IBM. Today, he possesses a thorough practical Business Administration education, responsibility, an excellent income—all at age 27. Read about an unusual career.

Makes first sale

Gene's first sale, to a bank, required thorough study; consultations; a written recommendation. The climax came, Gene remembers, when he submitted his analysis to the vice president and received that gentleman's signature.

Discussing customers installation

Gene's latest sale was to a large industrial corporation. He's now preparing this customer for the installation of an IBM electronic system designed to simplify financial procedure; inventory and other systems problems. At 27, Gene finds himself top man on an important account. He's educator, salesman, administrator.

How would Gene define selling?

"We feel the best way to sell is to be able to consult. The best way to consult is to know something of value your customer doesn't. IBM's 'something of value' is profit through automation."

Gene's thoughts on competition:

"The entire Office Machine Industry feels the lead pencil is the biggest competitor. You've no idea how many time-consuming clerical jobs can be mechanized, thus freeing people for important, creative jobs. IBM's success in the field is due to service, knowledge, 'know-how'."

Does Gene find his youth a handicap?

"It's what you know—not how old you are—that counts. I deal with executives twice my age on a basis of equality, because they respect my training and my business judgment."

Future wide open

"I'm getting married soon, and I was amazed to realize how much security IBM's growth cycles has doubled on the average every five years since 1930) and benefits represent. But I think my real security lies in the chance to use my own ability fully and freely. There are nearly 200 Branch Managerships, 15 District Managerships and executive positions in 5 other divisions ahead of me. IBM is introducing new machines, systems and concepts so fast that, every Monday, we have a 'new idea' meeting just to keep up."

IBM hopes this message will give you some idea of what it's like to be a salesman at IBM. There are equal opportunities for E.E.'s, I.E.'s, M.E.'s, physicists, mathematicians, and Liberal Arts majors in IBM's many divisions—Research, Product Development, Manufacturing En-

BYU Nabs 4th In Skyline Wrestling

by Dale Harris

BYU, handicapped by Lamanite-Ute Saturday for the conference wrestling meet, and according to coach Allie Davis, the lack of vets was well considering the caliber of competition.

Davis was well pleased with his team which brought home fourth place a bit better than some of the experts predicted. Utah State, 44, BYU, 20, Wyoming, 17, Denver, 16, and New Mexico, four points.

Lamanite Clarence Hanks led the Cougars with a first place in the 167 pound class. Hanks turned in the top Cougar performance as he decisioned Wyoming's Meteer 2-0. Hanks was named the school's outstanding wrestler in the conference by the athletic department.

Colorado A&M took second place with 70 points, followed by Utah State, 44, BYU, 20, Wyoming, 17, Denver, 16, and New Mexico, four points.

captured the first place trophy. BYU has a weight class in winning four first places in which a team can participate, piling up a total of 70 points.

32 Footballers Receive Letters At Award Feed

by Jack Batchler

Thirty two players of Brigham Young's 1956 football team were given a banquet on Friday evening at which Coach Hal Kopp presented them with athletic letters.

In making the letter awards Coach Kopp, the amiable mentor of the rising Cougar football hopes, made comments on the work of several the players had contributed to the varsity.

Commenting on the performance of Jim Thompson, one which began with the Cougars in the depths of defeatedness, Kopp said that the team as a whole benefitted from the experience and should be better for it because of it.

From the heart of Kansas came Jim Lowry, a product of snow of Denver, with a reputation of being a valuable change taking place in the Montana game, the Wyoming pigskin heroes did not give up the spirit of competition, according to Kopp "They deserve the credit that can be given them."

Speaking with an eye to the future, Kopp said that he hoped that he would not have to coach three teams next season, but just one. The three he coached last year he was one in the infirmary, one in the mission field, and one in the playing field.

Concerning Cougar hopes for the 1957 season, Kopp said that, although he expects things to be changed somewhat he knows them better, he does not expect to walk off with the conference championship.

Following Kopp, Milo Hartvigsen dean of the Physical Education department, addressed the players, nine of which were seniors, telling them that the school is proud of the work and spirit they have shown.

The players receiving letters included these nine seniors, Hunt, Dick Hunter, Paul Bennion, Dick Ralph, Ray Jones, Jerry Wood, Jack Weenig, Glen Weidner and Ray Neel.
